FAQs:

How would KinderBounce gymnastics benefit our centre and children?

Kids benefit greatly from daily physical activity. Our gym provides a new and exciting place for children to explore that promotes them being active in a fun and safe space.

What is the minimum age the kids have to be to participate?

2.5 years old.

What should the kids wear?

Often kids wear shorts and a t-shirt or sweat pants and a t-shirt, depending on the time of year it is, as well as bare feet. Children with long hair should have their hair tied up and out of their face

Are boys able to participate in gymnastics too?

Our program is for boys and girls. In fact, we have a 50/50 split for the most part between the two genders. It is an excellent sport for any child to participate in regardless of gender.

Is gymnastics only for kids who are very active and who demonstrate the strength and coordination for the sport?

Gymnastics, especially at a young age, is such a great sport to help develop any child into a strong, flexible, agile and coordinated young athlete. Whether your child is already all of the above or needs to improve on their gross motor skills (GMS), gymnastics is an important sport for children to participate in. Gymnastics is the type of sport which develops the kids' GMS so they can eventually filter into any other sport of their choice later on in life.

Is gymnastics safe for our children to participate in?

Most children with age become climbers, swingers, jumpers, and just naturally move about in their surroundings. By bringing your centre to our gym, the kids will learn how to safely do all of the above and more. KinderBounce instructors all have NCCP artistic gymnastics and trampoline certification and all have experience working with children. With the proper instruction, equipment, and safety mats, KinderBounce provides an excellent learning environment for children.
